2. General comments:

Overall, in 2025, the Company's business operations were affected by various objective market factors such as price fluctuations, commodity supply, and increasing competition in the fertilizer and chemical industry. Although the Company has long-standing operational experience and a stable customer base and distribution channels, the inability to secure a suitable supply of goods meant that business operations could not be implemented as planned, leading to revenue falling short of targets and business results for the year not meeting expectations.

+ Regarding the fertilizer segment:

The domestic and global fertilizer markets experienced significant fluctuations in supply, demand, and pricing. Fertilizer prices at times declined compared to previous years, while manufacturers' distribution policies increasingly focused on traditional agency systems and strategic partners.

Furthermore, fluctuations in input material costs, transportation costs, and foreign exchange rates impacted selling prices and commodity supply in the market, making it difficult to access and proactively secure goods from suppliers.

+ Chemical segment:

The chemical market in 2025 was also affected by fluctuations in input material prices, transportation costs, and increasingly stringent requirements regarding technical standards and commodity circulation conditions. Additionally, many suppliers implemented closed distribution policies or limited the expansion of agency systems to control the market. In this context, the Company faced difficulties in identifying and establishing a supply of chemicals that met both market demand and the Company's business conditions, resulting in business activities in this sector not being implemented as planned.

+ Other services:

During the year, the Company recorded revenue from other services; however, the scale remained small and supportive in nature, not being a core business area, and therefore insufficient to cover the Company's operating expenses.

II. 2026 business plan

1. Fertilizer and Chemicals Division:

- Focus on identifying and establishing stable supply sources for fertilizers, chemicals, and raw materials by expanding cooperation with domestic and international manufacturers, aiming to gradually secure the supply needed for the Company's business operations.

- Leverage the Company's advantage as an enterprise with a long-established customer base and distribution network, strengthening connections with traditional partners and agents to restore and expand sales volume as soon as supply is secured.

- Proactively research and identify new products or product lines with stable market demand to diversify business operations and reduce reliance on a limited number of traditional items.

- Enhance market analysis, monitoring supply-demand trends, pricing, and trade policies within the fertilizer and chemical industry to implement flexible business solutions tailored to each market phase.

- Gradually expand partnerships with domestic and international enterprises, capitalizing on opportunities from trade and logistics activities to improve the Company's business performance.

2. Other issues:

- The company continues to closely monitor the financial situation, cash flow, and accounts receivable to limit financial risks, proactively prevent the occurrence of bad debts, and ensure safety in business operations.

- Create conditions and encourage staff and employees to propose new initiatives, ideas, and solutions to improve the efficiency of production and business operations, improve work processes, and optimize work performance.

- Continue to review and improve appropriate personnel policies to retain key personnel, while also strengthening the attraction of competent human resources to meet the development requirements of the Company in the coming period.

- Be proactive and flexible in developing and adjusting production and business plans in accordance with market developments; at the same time, strengthen management, balance resources, and organize implementation to improve the operational efficiency of the enterprise.

3. Business plan for 2026

No	Indicators	2026 Plan (Billion VND)
1	Revenue	50-100
2	Profit after tax	0,4-0,8

The above are the results of production and business operations in 2025 and the direction of tasks for 2026, reported to the 2026 Annual General Meeting of Shareholders.

I sincerely thank you and wish our shareholders good health, happiness, and success.
