General Journal

IV SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

1 Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash includes cash on hand and demand deposits. Cash equivalents are highly liquid short-term investments (less than 3 months) that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and have minimal risk of changes in value

2 Investments

Trading Securities

Held for trading purposes to earn short-term profits. They are initially recorded at cost (purchase price plus transaction costs) and subsequently measured at cost less allowance for diminution in value.

Held-to-Maturity (HTM) Investments

Includes term deposits, bonds, and mandatory redeemable preferred shares that Management intends and is able to hold until maturity. These are recorded at cost less allowance for doubtful debts.

3 Receivables

Reflected at cost less allowance for doubtful debts.

4 Fixed Assets

Tangible Fixed Assets

Recorded at cost (purchase price, import duties, non-refundable taxes, and direct costs to bring the asset to its working condition) less accumulated depreciation.

Depreciation: Calculated using the straight-line method.

Office equipment	3 – 8 years
Transportation vehicles	6 years

Intangible Fixed Assets

Includes computer software, amortized over 4 to 8 years using the straight-line method.

5 Construction in Progress

Reflects costs of software systems currently being established; no depreciation is charged during this phase.

6 Long-term Prepaid Expenses

Includes assets with an original cost of less than 30 million VND. These are amortized over 1 to 3 years using the straight-line method.

7 Liabilities

Trade and other payables are stated at cost

8 Taxation

Income tax on the profit or loss for the year comprises current and deferred tax. Income tax is recognised in the statement of income except to the extent that it relates to items recognised directly to equity, in which case it is recognised in equity.

Current tax is the expected tax payable on the taxable income for the year, using the tax rates enacted at the end of the annual accounting period, and any adjustment to tax payable in respect of previous years.

Deferred tax is provided using the balance sheet method, providing for temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for taxation purposes. The amount of deferred tax provided is based on the expected manner of realisation or settlement of the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities using the tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the annual accounting period.

A deferred tax asset is recognised only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the temporary difference can be utilised. Deferred tax assets are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realised.

9 Share capital

Share capital and share premium

Ordinary shares are stated at par value. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of ordinary shares, net of tax effects, are recognised as a deduction from share premium. The excess of proceeds from issuance of shares over the par value of shares issued is recorded as share premium.

Statutory reserves

On 17 December 2021, the Ministry of Finance issued Circular No. 114/2021/TT-BTC ("Circular 114") to abolish Circular No. 146/2014/TT-BTC ("Circular 146") dated 6 October 2014 issued by the Ministry of Finance to provide guidance on the financial regime for securities companies, fund management companies. Circular 114 is effective from 1 February 2022. Consequently, the Company has ceased to allocate realised profit to statutory reserves since 2022. According to guidance of Circular 114, the existing balances can be used as follows:

* The reserve to supplement share capital that was already made under Circular 146 will be used to supplement share capital as promulgated under Securities Law No. 54/2019/QH14 and other legal regulations.

* The financial reserve can be used to supplement to share capital or distributed in accordance with the shareholders' decision at the Company's General Meeting of Shareholders as promulgated under Securities Law No. 54/2019/QH14 and other legal regulations.

10 Revenue and other income

Services rendered

Securities investment consulting fee, management fee of securities investment funds, securities investment portfolio and pension funds, redemption fee and subscription fee are recognised in the statement of income when earned. No revenue is recognised if there are significant uncertainties regarding recovery of the consideration due.

Interest income

Interest income is recognised on a time proportion basis with reference to the principal outstanding and the applicable interest rate.

Dividend income

Dividend income is recognised when the right to receive dividend is established. Share dividends are not recognised as financial income

11 Leases

Operating lease payments

Payments made under operating leases are recognised in the statement of income on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease. Lease incentives received are recognised in the statement of income as an integral part of the total lease expense, over the term of the lease.

Leased assets

Assets held under leases in term of which the Company, as lessee, does not assume substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as operating leases and are not recognised in the Company's balance sheet.

12 Asset management for segregated accounts

The Company signs asset management agreements for segregated accounts "SMA". Assets and liabilities in relation to such SMAs are recorded in off-balance sheet in accordance with Circular 125
