2 . ACCOUNTING SYSTEM AND ACCOUNTING POLICY

2.1 . Accounting period and accounting currency

Annual accounting period commences from 1 January and ends as at 31 December.
The Company maintains its accounting records in Viet Nam Dong (VND).

2.2 . Standards and Applicable Accounting Policies

Applicable Accounting Policies
The Company applies the Corporate Accounting System promulgated under Circular No. 99/2025/TT-BTC dated 27 October 2025 (replacing Circular No. 200/2014/TT-BTC), Circular No. 202/2014/TT-BTC guiding the method of preparation and presentation of consolidated financial statements, and Circular No. 43/2026/TT-BTC dated 20 April 2026 amending and supplementing a number of articles of Circular No. 202/2014/TT-BTC.

On 27 October 2025, the Ministry of Finance issued Circular No. 99/2025/TT-BTC guiding the Corporate Accounting Regime, replacing Circular No. 200/2014/TT-BTC dated 22 December 2014 and Circular No. 53/2016/TT-BTC dated 21 March 2016 amending and supplementing a number of articles of Circular No. 200/2014/TT-BTC. This Circular becomes effective for financial years beginning on or after 1 January 2026.

The Company has applied the provisions of Circular No. 99/2025/TT-BTC prospectively from 1 January 2026. The Circular also introduces changes to the presentation of certain items in the financial statements. Accordingly, comparative figures have been reclassified to conform to the current period's presentation. Details of the reclassification of comparative figures are disclosed in Note 37 to these interim financial statements.

Statement of compliance with Accounting Standards and Accounting System
The Company applies Vietnamese Accounting Standards and supplementary documents issued by the State. Financial Statements are prepared and presented in accordance with regulations of each standard and supplementary document as well as with current Accounting Standards and Accounting System.

2.3 . Basis for preparation of Consolidated Financial Statements

The consolidated financial statements of the Company are prepared on the basis of consolidating the separate financial statements of the Company and the financial statements of the subsidiaries controlled by the Company (the subsidiaries), prepared for quarter 3 of 2026. Control is achieved when the Company has the power to govern the financial and operating policies of the investees so as to obtain benefits from their activities.

The financial statements of the subsidiaries are prepared using accounting policies consistent with accounting policies of the Parent Company. If necessary, adjustments are made to the Financial Statements of subsidiaries to ensure the consistency in the application of accounting policies across the Company and its subsidiaries.

The operating results of subsidiaries acquired or disposed of during the period are included in the Consolidated Financial statements from the effective date of acquisition or up to the effective date of disposal.

All material intra-group balances, income and expenses, including unrealised profits and losses arising from intra-group transactions, are eliminated in full on consolidation financial statements.

Non-controlling interests
Non-controlling interests represent the portion of profit or loss and net assets of subsidiaries not attributable to the Company.

2.4 . Financial Instruments

Initial recognition
Financial assets
Financial assets of the Company include cash, cash equivalents, trade receivables, other receivables, loans receivable, long-term and short-term investments. At initial recognition, financial assets are measured at acquisition cost plus transaction costs directly attributable to their acquisition or issuance.

Financial liabilities
Financial liabilities of the Company include borrowings, trade payables, other payables and accrued expenses. At initial recognition, financial liabilities are determined by issuing price plus other expenses directly related to the issuance of those liabilities.

Subsequent measurement after initial recognition
Financial assets and financial liabilities have not been measured at fair value as of the end of the accounting period because Circular No. 210/2009/TT-BTC and current regulations require the presentation of financial statements and disclosures for financial instruments but do not provide equivalent guidance for the measurement and recognition of the fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities.

2.5 . Cash and cash equivalents

Cash includes non-term and term bank deposits, and deposits on securities trading accounts.

Cash equivalents are short-term investments with a redemption period or maturity of no more than 3 months from the date of purchase, are easily convertible into a specified amount of cash, and carry minimal risk of value fluctuation upon conversion.

2.6 . Business combination and goodwill

Business combinations are accounted for using the acquisition method. The cost of a business combination includes the fair value, at the acquisition date, of the assets exchanged, liabilities incurred or assumed, and equity instruments issued by the acquirer in exchange for control of the acquiree, along with directly attributable costs of the business combination. Identifiable assets, liabilities, and contingent liabilities of the acquiree in the business combination are recognized at their fair values at the acquisition date.

Goodwill or gain on a bargain purchase is determined as the difference between the cost of the investment and the fair value of the identifiable net assets of the subsidiary as of the acquisition date when the parent company obtains control of the subsidiary. Any gain on a bargain purchase (if applicable) is recognized in the consolidated income statement. Goodwill is amortized on a straight-line basis over its estimated useful life of 10 years. Periodically, the Company assesses goodwill impairment. If evidence suggests that the impairment exceeds the periodic amortization, the impairment amount is immediately recognized in the reporting period in which it occurs.

2.7 . Financial investments

Trading securities are initially recognized at original cost which includes purchase prices plus any directly attributable transaction costs such as brokerage, transaction fee, cost of information provision, taxes, bank's fees and charges. After initial recognition, trading securities are measured at original cost less provision for impairment of trading securities. Upon the liquidation or transfer, cost of trading securities is determined using weighted average method.

Held-to-maturity investments include loans held to maturity to earn interests periodically and other held-to-maturity investments.

Investments in joint ventures and associates: During the year, the buyer determines the date of purchase and the cost of investments and implements accounting procedures in accordance with the Accounting Standards "Investments in joint ventures and associates".

In the Consolidated Financial Statements, investments in associates are accounted for using equity method. Under the equity method, the investment is initially recognized in the consolidated statement of financial position at cost and subsequently adjusted for changes in the Group's share of the net assets of the associate after the acquisition. Goodwill arising from the investment in associates is included in the carrying amount of the investment. The Group does not amortize this goodwill but performs periodic assessments to determine whether it has been impaired.

Financial Statements of associates are prepared in the same period with the Group's consolidated financial statements and apply accounting policies consistent with those of the Group. Adjustment shall be made if necessary to ensure the consistency with the Group's accounting policies.

Equity Investments in other entities comprise investments in equity instruments of other entities without having control, joint control, or significant influence on the investee. These investments are initially stated at original cost. After initial recognition, these investments are measured at original cost less provision for devaluation of investments.

Provision for devaluation of investments is made at the end of the period as follows:
-With regard to investments in trading securities: the provision shall be made on the basis of the excess of original cost of the investments recorded in the accounting book over their market value at the time the provision is made.
-With regard to long-term investments (other than trading securities) without significant influence on the investee: if the investment is in listed shares or the fair value of the investment can be reliably determined, the provision is based on the market value of the shares; if the fair value of the investment cannot be determined at the reporting date, the provision is based on the financial statements of the investee at the time the provision is made.
-With regard to held-to-maturity investments, the provision for doubtful debts shall be made based on the recovery capacity in accordance with statutory regulations.

2.8 . Receivables

The receivables shall be recorded in details in terms of due date, entities receivable, types of currency and other factors according to requirements for management of the Company. Receivables are classified as short-term and long-term in the Consolidated Financial statements based on the remaining maturities of the receivables as of the reporting date.

Provision for doubtful debts is made for receivables that are overdue under the economic contract, contractual commitment or debt commitment, for which the Company has made multiple demands for recovery but remains unrecoverable. The provision for overdue receivables is based on original repayment schedule according to the purchase and sale contract, exclusive of the debt rescheduling between contracting parties and the casewhere the debtor is bankrupt, undergoing dissolution procedures, missing or has absconded.

2.9 . Inventories

Inventories are initially recognized at original cost including purchase price, processing cost and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their location and condition at the time of initial recognition. After initial recognition, at the reporting date, inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realizable value.

Inventories (continued)

The cost of inventory is calculated using weighted average method.

Inventory is recorded by perpetual method.

Method for valuation of work-in-progress at the end of the period: Work-in-progress costs are accumulated based on the actual costs incurred for each type of unfinished product.

Provision for devaluation of inventories made at the end of the period is based on the excess of original cost of inventory over their net realizable value.

2.10 . Fixed assets

Fixed assets (tangible and intangible) are initially stated at the historical cost. During their useful lives, fixed assets (tangible and intangible) are recorded at original cost, accumulated depreciation and net book value.

Fixed assets are depreciated (amortised) using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives as follows:

- Buildings and structures	05 - 25 years
- Machinery and equipment	03 - 09 years
- Transportation vehicles	06 years
- Office equipment and furniture	04 - 10 years
- Perennial plants and working or producing animals	08 years
- Other tangible fixed assets	04 - 07 years
- Trademarks	05 years
- Management software	03 - 08 years
- Other Intangible fixed assets	04 years

Intangible fixed assets which are land use rights are not amortised.

2.11 . Investment properties

Investment properties are initially recognized at historical cost.

Investment properties held for capital appreciation prior to 01 January 2015 are depreciated on a straight-line basis similar to other fixed assets, but from 01 January 2015 are not depreciated.

Investment properties held for operating lease are recorded at cost, accumulated depreciation and net book value. Investment properties are depreciated using the straight-line method with expected useful life as follows:

- Buildings and structures	05 - 25 years

Investment properties which are land use rights are not depreciated.

2.12 . Construction in progress

Construction in progress includes fixed assets under acquisition and constructed that are not completed as of the balance sheet date and are recognised at historical cost. This includes costs of construction, installation of equipment and other direct costs.

2.13 . Operating lease

Operating lease is a type of lease where the majority of the risks and benefits associated with ownership of the asset remain with the lessor. Payments under an operating lease are recorded in the income statement using the straight-line method based on the lease term.

2.14 . Deferred expenses

The expenses incurred but related to operating results of several accounting periods are recorded as prepaid expenses and are allocated to the operating results in subsequent accounting periods.

The calculation and allocation of long-term prepaid expenses to operating expenses in each accounting period should be based on the nature of those expenses to select a reasonable allocation method and criteria.

Types of prepaid expenses of the Company include:

- Tools and equipment include assets held by the Company for use in normal business operations, with the original cost of each asset being less than 30 million VND, and therefore not meeting the criteria to be recognized as fixed assets according to current regulations. The original cost of tools and equipment is amortized using the straight-line method over a period of 24 to 36 months.
- Other prepaid expenses are recognized at original cost and allocated on a straight-line basis over the useful life from 06 months to 12 months.

2.15 . Payables

The payables shall be recorded in details in terms of due date, entities payable, types of currency and other factors according to the requirements for management of the Company. Payables are classified as short-term and long-term on Consolidated Financial statements based on the remaining term of the payables at the reporting date.

2.16 . Borrowings

Borrowings shall be recorded in details in terms of lending entities, loan agreement and terms of borrowings.

Issued bonds shall be recorded in details in types of face value, interest rate and maturity of bonds.

2.17 . Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs are recognized as expenses in the year they are incurred, except for borrowing costs directly related to the construction or production of construction in progress, which are capitalized into the value of the asset when the conditions outlined in Vietnam Accounting Standard No. 16 "Borrowing Costs" are met. Additionally, for loans specifically used for the construction of fixed assets or investment properties, interest is capitalized even if the construction period is less than 12 months.

Bond issuance costs are allocated gradually in accordance with the bond's maturity period using the straight-line method and are recognized as financial expenses. At the time of initial recognition, the bond issuance costs are deducted from the face value of the bond. Periodically, the accountant allocates the bond issuance costs by increasing the bond's face value and recognizing the corresponding amount as a financial expense.

2.18 . Accrued expenses

Payables for goods and services received from suppliers during the accounting period, but not yet settled, along with other payables such as interest on loans payable, interest on bonds payable, etc., are recognized as expenses in the production and business activities for the accounting period.

The recording of accrued expenses as operating expenses during the period shall be carried out under the matching principle between revenues and expenses during the period. Accrued expenses will be settled with actual expenses incurred. The difference between accrued and actual expenses will be reversed.

2.19 . Provision for liabilities

Provision for liabilities is only recognized when meeting all of the following conditions:

- The Company have a present debt obligation (legal obligation or joint obligation) as a result of past events;
- It is probable that the decrease in economic benefits may lead to the requirement for debt settlement;
- Debt obligation can be estimated reliably

Value recorded as a provision for liabilities is the most reasonably estimated amount required to settle the present debt obligation at the end of the accounting period.

Only expenses related to the previously recorded provision for liabilities shall be offset by that provision for payable.

Provisions for liabilities are recorded as operating expenses of the accounting period. The difference between the provision for liabilities recognized in the previous period that has not been fully used and the provision for liabilities recognized in the current reporting period, if higher, is reversed and recorded as a reduction in operating expenses in the current period.

2.20 . Unearned revenues

Unearned revenues include prepayments from customers for one or many accounting periods relating to asset leasing.

Unearned revenues are transferred to revenue from sale of goods and rendering of services with the amount corresponding to each accounting period.

2.21 . Owner's equity

Owner's equity is stated at actually contributed capital of owners.

Other capital is the operating capital formed from the operating results or from gifts, presents, financing, assets revaluation (if these items are allowed to be recorded as a decrease or increase in the owner's equity).

Differences arising from asset revaluation shall be recorded when having the decision of State on asset revaluation, or when carrying out the equitization of State-owned enterprises and other cases in accordance with the provisions of the law.

Retained earnings reflect the Company's operating results (profit, loss) after corporate income tax and the distribution or handling of profits or losses.

Dividends to be paid to shareholders are recognised as a payable in Statement of Financial position after the announcement of dividend payment from the Board of Management and announcement of cut-off date for dividend payment of Vietnam Securities Depository Center.

2.22 . Revenues

Revenue is recognized when it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company which can be reliably measured. Revenue is determined at the fair value of the amounts received or to be received after deducting trade discounts, sales discounts, sales returns.

Financial income

Revenue arising from interest, dividends, profits, and other financial income is recognized when both of the following conditions are met:

- It is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the Company; and
- The amount of the revenue can be measured reliably.

Dividends and profit distributions are recognized when the company becomes entitled to receive the dividends or profit from its investments.

2.23 . Revenue deductions

Revenue deductions from sales and service provisions arising in the year include: Trade discounts, sales discounts and sales returns.

Trade discount, sales discount and sales return incurred in the same period of sale of goods and rendering of services are recorded as a decrease in revenue in the incurring period. In case goods and services are sold in the previous periods, but until the next period they are incurred as deductible items, the Company records the decrease in revenue under the following principles: If it is incurred prior to the issuance of Financial Statements, it is then recorded as a decrease in revenue on the Financial Statements of the reporting period (the previous period); and if it is incurred after the issuance of Financial Statements, it is recorded as a decrease in revenue of incurring period (the next period).

2.24 . Cost of goods sold

The cost of goods sold during the period is recognized in line with the revenue generated in the accounting period and ensures compliance with prudence principle. Instances of inventory wastage exceeding standard levels, costs exceeding normal limits, and inventory losses after deducting the responsibility of relevant individuals or groups, etc., are fully and timely recognized in the cost of goods sold for the accounting period.

2.25 . Financial expenses

Items recorded into financial expenses comprise:

- Expenses or losses relating to financial investment activities;
- Borrowing costs;
- Provision for impairment of investment in other entities.

The above items are recorded in full for the amounts incurred during the period, without offsetting against financial income.

2.26 . Corporate income tax

a. Current corporate income tax expenses and Deferred corporate income tax expenses

Current corporate income tax expenses are determined based on taxable income during the period and current corporate income tax rate.

Deferred corporate income tax expenses are determined based on deductible temporary differences, the taxable temporary differences and corporate income tax rate.

Current corporate income tax expenses and deferred corporate income tax expenses are not offset against each other.

b. Current corporate income tax rate

For the accounting period from 01 July 2026 to 30 September 2026, the Company is applying a corporate income tax rate of 20% on production and business activities subject to corporate income tax.

2.27 . Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share are calculated by dividing net profit or loss after tax for the period attributable to ordinary shareholders of the Company (after adjusting for appropriations to the bonus and welfare fund and the executive management bonus fund) by the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding during the period.

2.28 . Related Parties

The parties are regarded as related parties if that party has the ability to control or significantly influence the other party in making decisions about the financial policies and activities. The Company's related parties include:

- Companies, directly or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, having control over the Company or being under the control of the Company, or being under common control with the Company, including the Company's parent, subsidiaries and associates;
- Individuals, directly or indirectly, holding voting power of the Company that have a significant influence on the Company, key management personnel including directors and employees of the Company, the close family members of these individuals;
- Enterprises owned by the aforementioned individuals that possess direct or indirect voting rights or significant influence over the business.

When assessing the relationships of related parties for the purpose of preparing and presenting financial statements, the Company should focus on the substance of the relationship rather than its legal form.
